Man Is Wounded Twice at Trailer Home of Ex-Wife

A trailer home at 5280 Nameoki road was the scene at 2:10 a.m. Saturday of a shooting in which Norman Louis Graham, 32, of 25 Lakeview drive, Pontoon Beach, was wounded in the chin and right shoulder.

He is under 24-hour guard at the Wood River Township Hospital, sheriff's deputies said. He is charged with criminal damage to the trailer and an auto in a warrant filed by his ex-wife, Mrs. Shirley Fowler, and her husband, Kenneth Fowler.

The Fowlers were in their trailer when Graham allegedly attempted to enter it. A .25-caliber pistol was then fired at him, two bullets striking Graham.

The Fowlers alleged that Graham was armed with a shotgun, which they said was fired in the vicinity of their trailer. Graham drove away and a local ambulance summoned to the scene failed to find a description of his pink and white 1959 auto, deputies later took Graham into custody at his home.

He was quoted as saying he did not want medical attention, but deputies took him to a hospital after noticing bleeding. Doctors were able to remove a bullet from the chin and mouth area, and said his condition is not serious.

Bus will be parked near the front gate of the depot, and the entrance gate will direct visitors to the proper boarding location.

Lt. Col. Fox said the daily tours were added to the program because of public inquiries scheduled for Saturday, when a day-long program of activities will be presented at the depot, would not enable visitors to witness operations as

Businesses Oppose Any New Sales Tax Boost

State Spending Likely To Rise $375 Million In '69-71, Group Told

If Illinois state governmental spending exceeds known levels for 1969-71, as seems likely, many businessmen in this area would prefer a state income tax increase, it was indicated at a regional tax hearing of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon at the Round Table, Collinsville. The present sales tax totals $1.5 million.

No solution was proposed for a possible 1967-69 deficit of $231 million, to be dealt with by legislators at a special session opening July 15.

Repeal of inheritance tax changes last year unbalanced the present biennial budget by $37 million, and the state share of higher-than-anticipated public aid costs is projected at $54 million, a court report said. The service occupation tax is invalid as cost expected revenue by another $140 million, it was noted.

3% Income Tax Studied

Jack Beatty, tax manager of State Chamber of Commerce, told a gathering of 80 that a 3% flat rate income tax with credits would produce $880 million or without credits $115 billion over a two-year period.

He estimated that a 1% sales tax boost would produce $660 million, sales tax is broadening $800 million or a hike in the corporate franchise tax to 1%.

Without any increases in rates, population gains should add to state governmental income, but it will be difficult to keep pace with needs because government spending primarily goes for wages and salaries, he said.

Administrators currently expect appropriations to total $375 million to $1 billion more in 1969-71 than in 1967-68, Beatty reported.

Education, Welfare Costs

breakdown shows $30 million to $400 million more for public schools, depending on various circumstances; $75 million to $200 million more for four-year universities; $25 million to $100 million more for four-year colleges; $125 million more for the state portion of public aid; and $100 million more for mental health programs.

Although Beatty said an income tax could be enacted, he said it would be illegal under the existing Illinois constitution. Most of those speaking Thursday agreed that a "Yes" vote November on calling a constitutional convention to revise the present constitution.

Other tax sources likely to receive consideration were listed.

1 Dead, 35 Hurt in 52 Week-end Traffic Crashes

Rain, Fog Result in Poor Visibility, Slippery Pavements

A Granite City youth was injured fatally and 35 other persons were injured in the Quad-City area during the weekend as rain and fog, combined with slippery streets and highways, sent the traffic toll soaring to a total of 52 accidents.

Danny Eugene Ebling, 17, suffered fatal head injuries at St. Elizabeth Hospital, when his westbound auto left the Chain of Rocks road during heavy rain and overtook a truck.

Those who arrived at the scene a short time later said visibility was sharply limited due to the weather.

The car had left the pavement near Kinder lane and entered a ditch. It then flipped onto its top, coming to rest a short distance away in a motel driveway.

The motorist remained in the auto, being thrown against the left side. He was pronounced dead upon being taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He had resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Ebling, 2910 Denver street, until Monday, when he was married to the former Roberta Ann Ebrecht. Their address was 920 Nichols, Collinsville. His parents-in-law are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ebrecht, Arlington Heights.

A junior student at Granite City high school, he worked part-time at the Bel-Air drive-in picture theater and was on his way from the theater to the Denver address at the time of the crash.

An inquest will be conducted by Coroner Leonard Davis. He was a member of the Granite City chapter, Order of the Moose, No. 1245, and he was a lifelong local resident.

His survivors include a sister, Miss Diane Louise Swift of Warner-Rubins, arrangements are being given for the obituary column.

Emmett Dannenberg, 58, of 2962 Madison avenue, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with chest, neck and head pains. Also rushed there by ambulance, his wife, Lillian, 52, was released after treatment for right shoulder, arm and knee.

They were crossing 30th street at Madison avenue and Albert street, where Wood River was driving north on Madison avenue. Another auto had pulled out of 30th street into his path; Jan had braked and his car was skidding in a partial circle.

Witnesses placed most of the blame on that motorist.

Jeanette Young, 28, of 1931 S. Wood River, East Madison, was injured at 26th street and Madison avenue at 12:45 p.m. Saturday while a passenger in the northbound car of Bonnie Wallace, 1605 Elizabeth street, Madison.

There was damage to the right front of their vehicle and the front of the westbound auto of Kathryn McCosky, 2203 East 22nd street. Both cars were towed away.

Three Persons Injured

Madison avenue, and in the Nameoki area late in the week.

Pickup crews, consisting of 14 men using eight trucks, began operations in the southern part of the city this morning and will work northward in East Granite and also in the Tri-City Park area throughout the week. Street workers will clean the entire area this week, according to William Warfield, street superintendent, who said the clean up drive apparently has been a big success because "we are hauling away an enormous amount of trash."

The cleanup drive, sponsored by the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, was launched last Monday with industrial and business firms participating in a series of housekeeping, painting and repair programs designed to spruce up their buildings and grounds. Thousands of homeowners also are taking part in the program with paint-up and fix-up activity.

The street department program of trash pickups was designed to aid the housekeepers who cleaned attics, basements and yards and had large quantities of rubbish, brush and castoffs to haul away. Street crews worked the West Granite area last Monday and Tuesday, then moved through the area of the city between the railroad tracks and Madison avenue.

Warfield said it will require the remainder of this week to complete pickups in the area east of Madison avenue.

Man Sets Fire To Bed Occupied By Young Girl, 9

An unidentified man is being sought by the Madison county sheriff for setting fire to a bed in which a nine-year-old girl had been sleeping at 2:30 a.m.

Kelly Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stone, 3 Robin court, Parkview Estates, Nameoki township, told deputies the man first reached in through her bedroom window and placed his hand over her mouth.

She was awakened when his father began screaming, after the man fled, that there was a fire in her bed.

Investigators found part of a burned newspaper in the bed, and remaining portions of the paper outside the home. Fire damage was confined to the bed. The girl had a lump over her eye but did not know how it got there. The window was unlocked.

Mrs. Stone later commented that "whoever it is must be a pervert. We have had other problems in this neighborhood, but we don't know what to think. The child lights were in the living room and at the back of her home."

She said that about six weeks ago curtains near fire on fire in another home, but it was believed then that it was an attempted burglary. The girl is in the fourth grade at Parkview school.

The incident was reported to the sheriff's office by a neighbor, Roy Brummett, 3 Robin court.

Heart Ailment Fatal To Mrs. Cook at 34

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann "Betty" Cook, 34, of Rural Route One, Box 483, Nameoki township, mother of four school-age children, was pronounced dead upon being taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7 a.m. Friday.

Death was attributed to rheumatic heart disease. An inquest is to be held.

She was taken to the hospital by ambulance from her home near Stallings after a young daughter found her lying on the bathroom floor. The child was awakened by an alarm clock ringing. Mrs. Cook's husband, Dale, an electrician at Granite City Steel Co., was still asleep when the mother was discovered.

Born in Granite City, Mrs. Cook had resided here her entire life. She attended local schools and was graduated from Granite City high school.

In January, she enrolled as a student at Southern Illinois University's southwestern campus and was attending daytime classes. She had expressed the hope of becoming a school teacher.

Mrs. Cook was a den mother in Cub Pack 98, an active member of the Stallings Parent-Teacher Association and a member of the First Baptist Church of Madison.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Cook is survived by two daughters, Sharon, 13 years old, and Paula, six, and two sons, Thomas, who observed his tenth birthday Thursday, and Edward, eight, all at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Elsie) Vance of Granite City; one sister, Mrs. Harold (Marie) Lassen of Granite City; three brothers, Charles Vance Jr. of Long Beach, Calif., and Richard and David Vance, both of Granite City; and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Perry of Madison.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. today at a Granite City funeral home. Arrangements are given elsewhere in this issue.

Seabee Kelly Ross Is Home from Vietnam

Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ross, 1559 Richmond avenue, arrived home Thursday evening from Quang Tri, South Vietnam, where he spent the past eight months on duty with a U. S. Seabee Battalion.

The 19-year-old serviceman will enjoy a 30-day leave at home with his parents before reporting to Port Hueneme, Calif., in preparation for a return trip to Vietnam.

He explained Friday that Seabees based in Southeast Asia are not rotated on a 12-month tour of duty schedule as other U. S. Armed Forces, but are deployed overseas for a nine-month period of time, with the maximum number of tours unspecified.

Ross left the U. S. last July, serving on Okinawa prior to assignment in Vietnam. Apart from a two-month stint at Da Nang, he served the remaining time at Camp Site X, in the vicinity of Quang Tri, where U. S. forces are constructing an air strip.

Ross commented that as late as Saturday night, the Seabees' tent encampment drew heavy mortar fire from enemy troops and about 20 rockets exploded in the immediate camp area, which has U. S. Marine Corps detachments stationed around its perimeter.

While overseas, the serviceman said he handled several shipments of material and equipment sent directly to Vietnam from the Granite City Army Depot. He also met another Granite City youth, Jim Stephens, who is serving in the First Cavalry Division near Phu Bai.

A January '67 graduate of Granite City high school, Ross enlisted last July 28. From the age of 12, he received Navy training as a member of the U. S. Navy Sea Cadets and spent one year in the Navy Reserves before assuming active status.

His parents were not expecting him home until later this month. However, Mr. Ross commented, "This is the best Mother's Day gift I could receive."

Miss Joan Marie Reinhardt, Phillip D. Achenbach Wed

Arrangements of white flowers and greenery adorned the altar of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church for the wedding Saturday morning of Miss Joan Marie Reinhardt, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Reinhardt, 1700 Lindell Blvd., and Phillip David Achenbach, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Achenbach, 2410 Sheridan Avenue.

The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock by the Rev. Lawrence J. Maitingny, and a reception was held at 1 p.m. at the Lewis and Clark restaurant in East Alton.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organza with a fitted bodice designed with a bateau neckline and elbow-length bell sleeves. A long lace train, the neckline and additional motifs of the lace trimmed the waist.

The "A" line skirt, falling from an Empire waist, was floor-length with small roses of lace and seed pearls accounting the motifs. A detachable train of silk organza was chapel length, and a bow of lace and seed pearls held in place a veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a nosegay of white daisies.

Miss Janice Reinhardt, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, serving with three bridesmaids, Miss Patricia Ashby, Miss Lorraine Szedlar and Miss Carol McDaniel.

They wore identical floor-length "A" line gowns of maize linen made on Empire lines. The molded bodices had square necks and short sleeves. White daisy motifs with yellow centers covered the sleeves and large fabric bows trimmed the back neckline. Their headpieces were yellow bows and veiling and they carried baskets of yellow and white daisies.

The bridegroom had his brother, Leroy Achenbach, as best man, and James Jones and Gary Reiss, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, and James Reinhardt, the bride's brother, Mark Reinhardt, another brother of the bride, and Richard Reinhardt, a cousin, made up the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Reinhardt chose an aquamarine suit dress of silk linen with matching accessories, while the bridegroom's mother appeared in a beige skimmer dress with long sleeves made of an imported material with a lace effect. Both had corsages of white orchids.

After a honeymoon in Silver Dollar City, Branson, Mo., the couple will reside in Granite City. Both young people graduated from the local high school and Mr. Achenbach attended Washington University. He is an employee of Union Electric Co. and his bride holds a secretarial position in St. Louis.

Mercer, Credit Union Drop Close Decisions

Losses were suffered by the Granite City Inter-City League baseball teams Sunday. Granite City Steel Credit Union bowled 2-1 in 11 innings at Potomac and Mercer dropped a home game to the East Alton Machineists 3-1 as the visitors scored twice in the ninth.

Other league scores were Collierville over Troy 4-0 and Maryville over East St. Louis Polish-American War Veterans 5-1.

Credit Union scored its lone run in the first inning on a hit by Arvil Taylor and double by Charles Stephens.

Potomac also scored in the first on a hit, a ground out and two wild pitches.

Credit Union had numerous chances, including the bases loaded in the eighth with two men out.

The Braves had men on base every inning, but strong pitching by Larry Jones left them stranded until the twelfth. A base hit by James Kuhn, an infield out and a single by John Hutchinson decided the issue.

Larry Jones was the loser.

giving up nine hits, striking out four and walking six. Dave Rommerskirchen won, allowing nine hits and no walks and retiring 14 on strikes.

Blackledge defeated Sander-son in the other mound duel, each fanning nine.

Mercer took a temporary lead in the third inning as Larry Corey walked, reached second on an infield grounder and had throw, and scored on a hit by Harold Tankley. Two walks and a hit tied it in the sixth.

An error, single, squeeze bunt, hit batsman and walk provided the winning runs.

Coolidge Nine Trims Belleville, Roxana

The Coolidge junior high baseball team won at Roxana 15-5 Friday afternoon after defeating Belleville West 8-4 here Thursday.

Don Harris and Joe Wallace combined to allow only one Roxana hit, while Ned Tapp and Dennis Brower pitched against Belleville West.

The Braves' record is now 7-2-1.

BATTER UP! David Page is at the plate and the Mitchell Athletic Association opened the 1968 Little League season Saturday.

The Rains Came--and Won; 47-10 GCHS Mound Record By 4 Brothers

The end of the 1968 school year will mark the end of an era in Granite City high school baseball history this period of history may well be known as the Rains era.

Beginning in 1954 and running throughout the present year, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrean Rains has competed and won a varsity letter in baseball in 10 of the 15 years.

All of the four sons, Adrean Jr., John, Jim and the last of the chain, Don have been pitchers of top drawer quality. Adrean Jr. played in 1954-55 and was primarily an infielder but also had a pitching record of two wins and no losses.

Then came John, who pitched for the Warriors in 1958 (3-0), 1959 (7-3) and 1960 (6-0). He was elected co-captain for the 1960 campaign.

After a three-year lapse, Jim picked up the reins (sorry about the pun), and lettered as a pitcher in 1964 (no decisions), 1965 (4-2) and 1966 (8-3).

Don then made his varsity appearance as a junior in 1967. That year he posted a perfect record of 10-0, leading the varsity to a Southwestern championship.

Presently, Don is the stalwart of the pitching staff and has been elected as a tri-captain. His record is seven wins and two losses.

The combined pitching record of the Rains brothers for this period of time has been a brilliant total of 47 wins and 10 losses.

All are still active in baseball at the present time. Adrean Jr. is player-manager for Mercer in the Southwest-Illinois Intercity League. John has pitched in the league since his high school graduation, and Jim is presently attending Peru State College in Nebraska. He lettered in baseball in his freshman year, and is rated as one of the college's top pitchers.

The Warriors' last conference game of the year at Alton May 7 prompted a remark by an Alton fan which might well

In the Warrior fourth with two men out, Jeff Boyles singled, Belisle singled, Jim Becker and Jim Jones walked, Walter Schmidt doubled for two runs and Mike Dochwat singled for another.

THE MADISON COUNTY SPORTSMAN

By DON HASTINGS
County Conservation Officer

Remember Boat Laws
With boating and fishing beginning, remember that a new boating law passed last year now makes it mandatory that every boat regardless of size must have a coast guard approved life saving device on board for every person. This may include a seat cushion, a life vest, or life jacket in most boats used in the county.

Just be sure that there is a tag on the equipment stating clearly that it is Coast Guard approved and there should be a CG approval number. Those with missing buckles or straps will not pass.

Boats only have to be registered if they are mechanically powered such as with an electric or gas motor and sailboats if they exceed 12 feet in length. A boat that is oared or paddled regardless of size does not have to be registered.

Upsurge in Fishing
Fishing has picked up considerably. Many of the fee lakes have been real good and I have had reports on good red ear fishing in farm ponds. Worms on the bottom, baited loosely seem to be best red ear bait.

Bass catches were reported on Rapalas and any of the combinations that include a spinner or spoon. Have not heard of any real linkers as yet. River fishing at the Chain of Rocks low water rock dam has been a hot and cold thing.

There have been runs on several kinds and except for the few old consistent pros it seems to be a matter of being there on the day a certain school is running. There have been days of stripers, sturgeon, drum and saugers. I have not happened to be there there has been any good carp or catfish days.

Carlyle Lake
Carlyle Lake has been good for catfish and carp below the dam and catfish has been real hot in the old river bed above Keysport. I have not heard of much coming out of the main lake itself. It is to be kept low for sometime until the excavation is finished north of the dam for the boat harbor.

Wet weather has delayed this project considerably and there will not be any good boating water until this is done and the water raised.

Fishing violations have been very light considering the confusion some fishermen had with the new law but I believe most are aware of it now. I have, however, written a number of tickets on road shooting and loaded guns in autos. Groundhog hunters persist in wanting to be padded seat hunters and hunt without leaving the car and others, including some youngsters, seem to want to ride the roads with loaded guns and pot shot whatever is available. One auto last week carried a loaded 12-shot scope rifle to hunt coals along the shore of Horseshoe Lake. Autos and guns, just like alcohol and gun powder, simply don't mix.

Deer-kills by autos seems to increase about this time of year. Of late I have had two killed near Kendall Hill on 143 near Wood River, one on Route 66 near Route 143 and one on Route 140 near Carpenter. The latter was one of the longest legged bucks I have ever seen. Buck horns at this time of the year are just beginning to come out in velvet form and this one has only about two inches showing.

Trash in Creeks
We are continuing our battle against dumping in creeks. Any information on people doing this dumping would be appreciated. Timber cutters also are reminded that any parts of timber they cut must be removed if it falls in the creek or on the banks.

Landowners should see that timber buyers clean up brush from trees cut on creek banks. Silver Creek is jammed in many places by logs and brush left lying on the banks by careless tree cutters in past years. As anyone who has ever tried to clear one can tell you, a jam in a creek is a thousand times easier to make than it is to undo.

It would take us many years to clean up the mess we have made out of the outdoors now even if we can stop further ruin. Let's every individual be a committee of one to pick up three share of the trash. A reminder that persons possessing firearms must be registered with the state by July 1, 1968, under a new state law. Anyone having firearms in the home is included whether they are used or not. The person is registered, not individual guns.

Warehouse Labor Issue Settled

Negotiating sessions to draft a contract for employees of the Vandalia Warehouse Corp. located in the Granite City Industrial Center, will begin this week as steps also are taken to organize the company's employees as a local of Teamsters Union 325, Lonzo Smith, assistant business manager of the union, announced.

Negotiations were scheduled after the firm agreed to recognize the union as bargaining agent for its workers. Smith said the union will dismiss a petition filed with the National Labor Relations Board asking that an election be held.

The contract will cover about 20 employees, although the company's work force varies in accordance with seasonal business. The firm handles public warehousing at 1100 Nidringhaus avenue.

An informational picket line was established at the plant last week and operations were discontinued Wednesday after workmen left their jobs.

All of the men returned to work Friday, however following settlement of the issue, a company spokesman said.

Brush Pickups to be Halted for Summer

Brush pickups usually made by the Granite City street department during winter and spring months will be discontinued for the summer and fall months immediately after the close of the current clean-up campaign, William Warfield, street superintendent, said today.

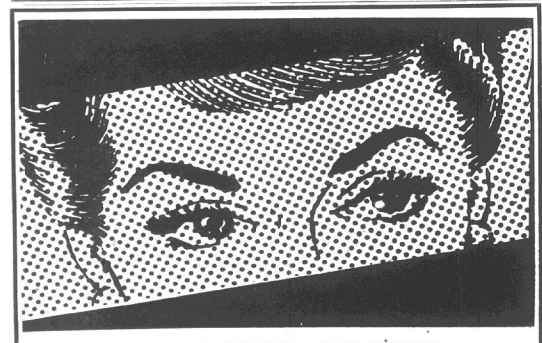

Warfield said that termination of the current drive in which brush and tree limbs also are being cleared away, no further brush pickups will be made until next November or December.

"We've made it a practice to pick up brush and tree trimmings during the winter and spring months if the residents put it out for us, but due to the press of the street and sidewalk program during the summer and fall we don't have the men and equipment to make this a year around project," Warfield said.

Through Generations

Bucherich Family Abounds in Music of Old Central Europe

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

On a fine evening, passers-by at 14th street and Grand avenue may be startled to hear the vibrant strains of unfamiliar string instruments, blended into foot-tapping tunes, more likely to be found within the borders of Central European countries than on the boundary between Madison and Granite City.

Long-time dwellers in the 14th and Grand neighborhood, however, are accustomed to the lilting sounds which frequently emit from the Liberty National Home and Social Club building—a sound steeped in the history of Middle Europe and continued here, to some great measure, through the perseverance, love of music and dedication of Steve Bucherich, a Madison resident the past 61 years.

Eighty-year-old Steve has a great-grandchildren among the group of 40 to 50 youngsters, who gather weekly at the Liberty Club to practice the traditional "tamburica" style of Yugoslavian folk music.

On occasions, he is not above joining their rehearsal sessions, contributing the melodious notes of his large bass cello to the more hesitant chords of the young beginners.

3rd Generation Teaching

He has worked hard to keep the deep-rooted Slavic music alive. First by teaching his own children, then his children's children and now by listening and enjoying his great-grandchildren's efforts.

The Madison man still encourages the descendants of other Central European immigrants, who came to America early this century to make their talents in the old traditional style.

Steve Bucherich arrived in Madison from Kutina in his native Croatia on April 30, 1907—the same day he observed his 61st birthday.

He brought with him an intense love for the music of the "tamburica," an ensemble of string instruments of the mandolin, guitar and cello variety, long famous in his homeland.

From his earliest recollection, he says, he was an adept performer on any one of the dozen or more instruments used in the tamburica, despite a lack of formal training.

His one great ambition was to be the leader of a tamburica orchestra composed of his own children—a dream that eventually materialized through years of personal dedication.

His imaginative ambition was but a wistful glimmer when he arrived in Madison in 1907. He obtained employment as a core-maker in the old Madison car shops, a position he held until the depression years.

Bucherich vividly recalls in detail his first adventure to St. Louis, carried out in a spirit of bravado, and with some trepidation, just two months after his arrival here.

Ferry from Venice

Accompanied by a non-English speaking friend, Burechich, whose own command of English consisted roughly of ten words, caught the six o'clock ferry at the Venice Landing and disembarked on the Missouri side at North Broadway.

The pair entered a south-bound street car, speaking two words to the driver—"Washington avenue"—and hoped for the best, he recalls.

They explored the downtown St. Louis area for a short time and, having gained confidence and feeling much braver, the twosome then boarded an old-style "Yellow Hammer" street car. They chose the right car, Bucherich explains, "Because I thought I recognized the words 'Madison and Granite City' on the front destination plate."

Considered Bold Feat

Bucherich remembers with obvious delight his companion and others with whom he had made friends since his arrival, some residents here, two and three years, expressing amazement at their bold feat, especially as neither man had yet learned English.

For several years the youngsters used a guitar the father had purchased in the old country, but there came a time when more instruments must be provided if the Bucherich tamburica was ever to become a reality.

The need for additional instruments and the depression arrived at about the same time. To make matters worse, one day the father dropped and broke the mandolin, leaving only the guitar.

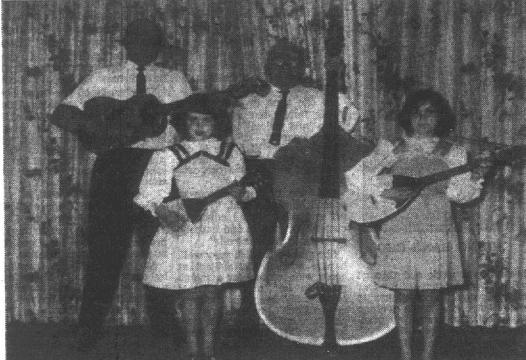

Although work in the car shop had been very scarce for some time and his meagre savings were fast being depleted, the broken mandolin must be repaired to continue the training. It was taken to a repair shop and the bill was $7 for mending an instrument that had originally cost only $10.

Reluctantly the father paid the repair bill rather than abandon his dream of a family tamburica. At this point it was decided that he would make the needed instruments.

Although he had never tried his hand at either wood carving or cabinet making, Bucherich set himself to the task with a determination that what another could do, he also could.

Meager Tools for Task

With nothing but a pocket knife, broken glass, sand paper, odds and ends of wood, he patiently persevered and finally completed his first instrument, an odd-shaped mandolin, the tone of which was considered superior for many years to instruments costing several hundred dollars.

During the 1930s, one by one the father completed nine other instruments in addition to teaching his children, Steve Jr., Joseph, Edward, John and Mary, the art of performing on them proficiently.

He received many offers to sell some of the instruments he had made with his own hands and ingenuity. Although still unemployed at the time, he stubbornly refused, saying "They are too much a part of my family."

Even though the tamburica dream motivated his entire life during those early years, Bucherich still had to provide a roof for his growing family. He carried on his back scraps of wood from the Madison car shops to his lot in East Madison and piece-by-piece constructed a frame house, which he recalls, "was shaped like a box car."

Today, the old wooden dwelling has been replaced on the same site at 1135 Greenwood street, Madison, with a comfortable home, complete with all the modern amenities. Bucherich eventually was employed by American Steel Foundries, and retired 15 years ago from his coremaker job.

A self-taught musician, the father was determined his children would learn music "the right way," and taught them to play by notes, re-arranging compositions to fit the unusual instruments he constructed.

Performed With Own Band

Even before instructing his own family, Bucherich taught many Madison men the art of playing string instruments and decades ago performed with his own band.

His oldest son, Steve Bucherich jr., proprietor of Butch's Coin and Material Co., 1331 Iowa street, Madison, carries on the family tradition, directing his own musical group, "Butch Bucherich and His Polka Band."

Widely-known in the bi-state metropolitan St. Louis area, the band is in constant demand for weddings and benefit events.

playing polkas, waltzes and popular music. This summer, its members will cut their first recording.

A large poster affixed to the wall of the Bucherich place of business on Iowa street announces that the polka band will be performing this Saturday at the West Frankfort Elks Lodge 1340. The sign promises those attending a variety of delicious foods, including barbecue lamb, turkey, chicken and ham, plus many other Croatian dishes.

On the same program Saturday evening in West Frankfort is a five-piece all-girl band—the Veselo Srce Tamburista. Three of the members are Madison residents, Frances, Kathy and Sandy Madrovic, who also are continuing the old-time traditional music.

Those performing nowadays with the Bucherich Polka Band, include Terry Dutko of Madison, Vince Debevo of Granite City, a student at SLU-Sr., Walter "Shabby" Babic of Belleville and Gene Vakula of Florissant, Mo.

Family Scattered

As with most families, the Bucherich children today are scattered from California to Ohio.

Joseph, now 51 years, has two sons and resides in California; John, who is in his early 40's, lives in Cleveland, O., with his wife, four sons and two daughters; and Mary is now Mrs. Joseph Carr of Orange, Calif., the mother of a son and daughter.

Edward Bucherich was killed on Nov. 2, 1950, while serving with the U. S. Marines in Korea.

Steve Jr., 52, has two daughters, Mrs. Ralph (JoAnn) Morris, 1327 Iowa street, Madison, and Mrs. Elmer (Dolly) Smith, 1601 Elizabeth street, Madison.

It is their children—the great-grandchildren of Mr. Bucherich sr., who are continuing the long-ago dream of the inspired young immigrant.

Younger Performers

Kim and Cindy Smith, nine and 11 years, respectively, are full-fledged members of the youthful performing group which diligently practices the music and native "Kolo" dances each week at the Liberty Home.

Stevie Morris, eight years, and his cousin, David Smith, 6½, are beginning pupils. The remaining great-grandchildren, who reside locally, range from four years to 18 months.

Enthusiasm still abounds from the elderly but active octogenarian as he discussed his experience on a recent visit to California and the make-believe world of Disneyland and Knott's Berry Farm.

No longer does the "Yellow Hammer" make its way along Madison avenue lined with two high wooden sidewalks, as he vividly recalls, and his musical performances are restricted to sessions with his immediate family.

But three or four times each week, winter and summer, he walks from his Greenwood street home to Granite City, reminiscing along the way with other old-timers.

Still enthusiastic about life and above all the music of the tamburica, played in the traditional manner, Steve Bucherich sr., continues to offer living proof to others how one man's ambitious dream and its ultimate fulfillment was achieved.

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY

By DONNA HOGAN

With the world in a turmoil and young people rebelling for one reason or another, Quad-City area residents are finding it is most refreshing to hear of a dedicated young girl who is determined to study the piano as her chosen vocation, and practices four hours daily.

Youngsters who dislike their practice sessions may find an inspiring message in the accomplishments of this young girl and return to the piano with a renewed incentive.

Young Bang Cho, 14, who is a student at Coolidge junior high school, is visiting here from Seoul, Korea, to further her musical education on the piano. She is living with Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacDonald, 1729 Primrose avenue, who are her sponsors and legal guardians, during her stay in this country.

She arrived here on Oct. 23, 1967, through the efforts of James Wade, a former resident, now living in Seoul, and who is also a composer and author.

Added to her in Korea, Miss Cho came to the attention of Miss Ruth Sienzynska, Artist-in-Residence at SIU-SW campus, four years ago when Miss Sienzynska was touring the Orient. She auditioned 59 top piano students in Korea, and told the three highest rated students if any one of them could arrange to come to this country she would train them.

Now Miss Cho studies with

her twice a week and through self discipline practices for four hours a day and continues to maintain a good grade average at school. She previously practiced for six hours a day. She comes from a family of talented musicians, as her father, Professor Cho, teaches voice at one of the universities in Seoul and directs the choir of the Presbyterian Church there. He studied for two years in Vienna and plans to return there for further work in the near future.

Talented Family

A 12-year-old sister, Young

Me Cho, has just won second place and a prize of $100 in a National Violin contest held in Seoul. A younger brother, Young Chang Cho, is studying the cello and promises to follow in the family tradition and make a name for himself in the music world.

At one time or another this young family has appeared on radio and television in their native country. Miss Cho has won a number of prizes in different contests but the largest and most appreciated one, was a piano.

Speaking of her subjects at school, Miss Cho said, "I enjoy art and physical education classes very much and have no problem in math at all."

She speaks English very well, having studied this subject at home with a tutor for a month prior to her arrival in this country. She has found the most difficult, to be the block program which includes, history, social studies and English, in a combined two-hour course.

Prof. Cho, her father, left the formal education and religious instruction to the discretion of Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald, while his daughter is living with them. She was introduced to a group of young people at St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church and joined their confirmation classes.

Confirmed Sunday

She was recently baptized at the church and of her own decision wanted to be confirmed on Sunday, when Bishop Chambers from Springfield, Ill., conducted the ceremonies at St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church.

The length of her stay here depends on her training. Miss Sienzynska, who was a child prodigy, and is known internationally in her own right, will continue to train her until such time she decides to send her to someone who may further her education.

Needs Ride to SIU-SW

She takes her lesson on Wednesdays at 4:45 p.m. at SIU-SW, and this is presenting a problem for the MacDonalds, in providing transportation.

At present, she is traveling by taxi and would appreciate a ride with someone attending classes at this hour for the remainder of this month.

Mrs. MacDonald also said she is in need of a place to practice on Monday, Tuesday and Friday after school, for one and a half hours and later in the evening, as this is the time Mrs. MacDonald is engaged in giving music lessons in her home.

As a result of a contest held at SIU-SW recently, Miss Cho won first prize in the competition which will entitle her to be presented at the Young Artists'

Recital to be given at the university on Oct. 20.

Future plans for competition include the National Chopin competition where each entry must submit a tape, and, if the judges accept it, they will attend the finals to be held in Buffalo, N.Y., on the weekend of Nov. 29. She will also enter the St. Louis Symphony Concerto Contest for Young Artists in February 1969.

20 Men to Graduate At Carpenters Banquet

Journeyman certificates will be presented to 20 former apprentices at the annual banquet of the Carpenters District Council at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the new council hall, 901 Chain of Rocks road.

A special award will be presented to Larry King, who won a district manipulative contest for fourth year apprentices in March. He will compete in a state contest May 23-24 in Chicago, where the winner will advance to the national contest in Kansas City Aug. 11.

Certificates and tapes will be presented by Milford Scott, area representative of the U.S. Department of Labor bureau of apprenticeship. Ray Cadmus is chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

Census Bureau Plans Employment Study

Householders in this area will be asked questions about current employment and unemployment this week by Census Bureau interviewers, Director Theodore F. Olson of the Bureau's regional office in Chicago announced.

The questions are part of the bureau's monthly population survey taken simultaneously throughout the nation to gather up-to-date information about the U. S. population. The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics uses these data principally to evaluate the changes in the national job picture.

Households to be interviewed here are part of a scientifically selected national sample. Their identity is confidential, and the facts obtained in the survey will be used only for statistical purposes. The same questions will be asked of all households throughout the sample.

Francis Cites Needs For More Park Areas

More park and recreation facilities are needed in the local urban complex, according to Terry Francis of Granite City, candidate for the Democratic nomination for state representative.

He commended recent state action in approving expansion of Lewis & Clark Park and claimed he was the only candidate openly favoring that program.

Francis said that the "old American idea of a vacant lot in every block has been displaced by composite subdivisions with well-kept yards where youngsters have no opportunity to express themselves."

"An adult society often forgets the needs of children. We must provide areas where people of all ages can have a good time. Why not create a prairie park so that all of us can learn to love the wonders of our natural habitat."

Some WW II Veterans Still Eligible for Loans

Some world war II veterans still have more than two years to obtain Veterans Administration guaranteed or insured loans, John B. Naser, manager of the VA's regional office in Chicago said today.

Final deadline for world war II eligibility is July 26, 1970, he said. This applies particularly to veterans discharged from the service because of service connected disability. Also retaining maximum eligibility to the final July 26, 1970, cutoff are widows of veterans who died from service-connected disabilities.

Eligibility has been expiring for world war II veterans according to a formula that adds 10 years to the date of their service discharge, plus one year for each 90 days of service, plus four days for each additional day of active duty.

Eligibility has already expired for many veterans and must terminate for all world war II veterans in 1970. VA will process any loan application reaching it before entitlement expires. Since these loan applications usually are sent to the VA by private lenders, the veterans must take this into consideration.

Plans have been completed for "Buckets for Hope" to be held May 21 in this area, in which operators of Kentucky Fried Chicken stores will contribute $1 for each bucket of chicken sold, with the money to go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association, it was announced today by Leonard Yetton, operator of the store at 1510 Johnson road.

The program is being conducted on a nation-wide basis and strong efforts by all dealers should achieve a goal of $100,000, Yetton said. Efforts are made to organize "block parties" at which Kentucky fried chicken will be the main course. Persons interested in arranging such parties may call the Muscular Dystrophy office, 644-2828.

Reilly Tar Co. Taxes Would Exceed $11,000

Annexation of Reilly Tar & Chemical Co. to Granite City, a move requested by the firm to obtain fire protection, would add more than $11,000 annually to the city's tax income, statistics indicated today.

The firm, now located in Nameoki township, had a 1967 property assessment of $200,000 on the major portion of its real estate property, another $8000 on a lot located along the right of way of the A&S railroad and $2,700 on personal property.

On the basis of the new 1967 overall tax rate for Granite City township, totaling $4.396 per $100 assessed valuation, Reilly Tar & Chemical Co. would pay a 1967 tax bill of $11,455.

The firm has petitioned the city council for annexation for fire protection purposes. A contract the firm has held with the city for fire protection expires June 8. City Atty. Richard Allen has been instructed by the council to prepare the necessary annexation documents.

Mayor Partney Reviews 3 Years in Office

Accomplishments of the municipal government in the past three years—starting from the improvement of the old cemetery in East Granite to multimillion dollar sewer program—are outlined today by Mayor Partney in his monthly report to Granite Citizens.

The text of his report follows:

"I became Mayor of our city in 1965. I am proud to report to the people, my thoughts are to cover the past three years of this four year term of office.

"In many fields of endeavor, we were able to bring about improvements with the aid of the aldermen and the great help of the citizen commissions and committees. I am most grateful for these commissions and committees and the time that is spent by them, without which our government would be a betterment of our community.

"To the average citizen, city government is a mystery. I am glad to be the service he receives. If rubbish is collected regularly without being streets, sidewalks, curbs are kept in repair; and the police and fire departments are efficient, then 'city hall' is doing its job.

"I have characterized these three years as hard years of accomplishments because it shows what can be achieved by a vigorous and concerned attack on the many problems facing our city. Some of these accomplishments are as follows:

"Our Police Department has been authorized by schooling in the House of Representatives by Cong. Melvin Price.

"The new bill authorizes $2 million in spending for school law. The old provision limited the program to schools. The Price bill will extend coverage to include both pre-school and in-school age children.

"Lunch programs can be developed by private, non-profit institutions or public institutions as child day centers, settlement houses or recreation centers which provide day care.

School Lunch Program Approved by President

A new federal law has been signed by President Johnson which will expand the school lunch program. The proposals embodied in the new statute were introduced originally in the House of Representatives by Cong. Melvin Price.

The new bill authorizes $2 million in spending for school lunch law. The old provision limited the program to schools. The Price bill will extend coverage to include both pre-school and in-school age children.

Lunch programs can be developed by private, non-profit institutions or public institutions as child day centers, settlement houses or recreation centers which provide day care.

1046 Major Civil Suits Pend in County Courts

A total of 1046 civil suit jury cases involving $10,000 or more were pending at the beginning of April, and 1046 were pending at the end of the month in Madison county circuit court, according to William Porter, of Granite City, clerk of the circuit court.

Forty cases were started or reinstated during the month, seven were transferred and 46 were ended.

There are 63 non-jury cases for $10,000 or more pending at the start of the month, with 32 started or re-instated, 29 terminated and 59 pending at the end of the month.

Civil suits for less than $10,000 involving injuries numbered 294, with 11 started or reinstated, eight transferred, 23 terminated and 290 pending at the end of the month. Non-jury cases for the same amounts totaled 656 at the first of the month, 50 were started or re-instated, 42 were ended and 636 were pending at the end of the month.

Small claim cases pending at the beginning of the month totaled 1407, 248 were started or re-instated, 314 were terminated and 1341 were pending at the end of the month.

"One of the pleasant duties of this office was the dedication of a new fire house in West Granite. We had delivery of a new aerial fire truck, without taxpayer money, brought by Granite City Steel Co. We appointed a new fire chief and added three men to this department.

"Lowest Rate in State. We started operation of our $1,468,189 sewerage treatment plant with the lowest sewerage rate in the state of Illinois.

"Paving and widening of Nameoki road including traffic control and lighting. Paving of Maryville road from Pontoon road north, McCambridge avenue from Madison into Granite City. The grading and shaping of Route 151 from Niedringhaus avenue north. Various street and sidewalk improvements.

"The authorization by the Federal Communications Commission to install and operate two-way radio equipment. This frequency is shared by the police and fire departments, city defense, the police department, the fire department, St. Elizabeth Hospital, some doctor's automobiles and ambulances. These radio communications are used for the handling of emergencies and the hospital and fire departments of any special requirements that arise in connection with accidents and disasters. I understand this system has saved some lives.

"We modernized the ten-acre site of the Veterans Memorial Episcopal Cemetery and the Catholic cemetery lying in the eastern part of the city, adjacent to Kirkpatrick Homes.

"I served as vice-chairman of the Citizens Committee for Madison and St. Clair Counties.

"Employee Hospitalization. We have a hospitalization insurance program for all city employees.

"The construction of 100 new units at the Anchorage Homes for the aged.

"Modernization of our book-keeping system for the city.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION:

"Most everyone has auto liability insurance, but think of the equal risk of injuring someone in sports, on trips, or of visitors being injured around the home or on the premises. Even if it doesn't result in a $10,000 liability award, it's nice to have personal liability insurance to pay the medical costs of injuries to others. Does Lueders Agency have liability policies for individuals, homeowners or landlords?"

Miss Mary Anne Robertson, Larry J. McKee are Wed

The marriage of Miss Mary Anne Robertson and Larry J. McKee was solemnized Saturday evening at the St. James Presbyterian Church. Rev. Gail Cross heard the vows of the couple before an altar decorated with spring flowers and foliage.

Miss Robertson, who was given in marriage by her older brother, Norman Smith, chose a gown of antique white satin on empire lines, with a scoop neck and long sleeves with a modified A-line skirt. Imported re-embroidered Alencon lace motifs, centered with frosted pearls and crystals, formed a front panel from the neck to the hem of the dress.

The detachable chapel train bore the same lace motifs. The shoulder length veil of illusion was secured with a fabric bow outlined in frosted pearls. She carried a lace covered prayer book centered with a white orchid.

The bride's two attendants, Miss Patricia Milton and Miss Karen Battorf, wore dresses of textured crepe with a white bodice and a yellow A-line skirt. Daisies were applied to the empire waistline and the dresses were styled with detachable yellow chiffon trains.

The bridesmaids wore triple tiered illusion on a band applied with daisies. They carried nosegays of yellow and white carnations.

The flower girl, Judy McKee, sister of the groom, dressed like the other attendants in a white dress filled with yellow and white pom poms.

Mr. McKee was attended by a Paul Thomson and Thomas Green, Paul Robertson, brother of the bride, Dan McKee, brother of the groom, Kenneth Wiedow and Robert Fleming served as ushers.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Robertson, 406 Richmond avenue, and William M. Robertson of Columbia, Mo. Mr. McKee's parents are Mr.

Illinois in 1818—Early History Was Recalled on 100th Anniversary

(From the Files of the Granite City Press-Record)

The 1967-68 Illinois sesquicentennial is not the first major anniversary observance of the admission of this state as one of the United States of America.

The centennial of Illinois was celebrated in 1917-18.

A proclamation calling attention to the 100-year milestone was issued Saturday, Nov. 3, 1917, by Governor Frank O. Lowden, noting that Dec. 3, 1917, would be the 99th anniversary of the admission of Illinois into the Union and the beginning of the centennial year.

He urged in the proclamation a general observance of the anniversary and formation of county organizations to aid the Illinois Centennial Commission in preparing for proper celebration of the state centennial during 1918.

The Centennial Commission, in cooperation with the Illinois Historical Society, already had begun planning for a celebration at Springfield on Dec. 3, 1917.

At that time, a gathering of county representatives discussed centennial plans and was entertained at a banquet at the court living ex-governors of the state were honored guests and Gov. Lowden was toastmaster.

The day was remembered in the public schools of Illinois by special exercises and was observed in other ways in various communities.

The governor's proclamation was as follows:

"On Dec. 3, Illinois will enter upon the hundredth year of her statehood.

"The General Assembly of Illinois has created a commission to provide for the celebration of our centennial. It already has plans well under way to make this event worthy of the greatness and the history of Illinois.

"But its work will not be complete unless the counties of the state shall also organize for this purpose. There is not a county in Illinois which has not been the scene of stirring and important events which should find a place in the permanent history of the state.

"Now is the time to single out and record these events.

"It is common knowledge that a young and expanding community, absorbed in making history, is only too careless about recording the history it makes.

"Many points in Illinois—scenes of momentous happenings—which could have been sources of pride and glory for the state are now only vague traditions.

"And so, while it is yet time, let our 100th year be marked by fixing permanently the memory of our first hundred years so far as we may be fixed at this time.

"It is thought by some that the time is not fitting for this celebration because of the worldwide war in which we find ourselves. I do not share this view.

"I realize the greatness of the burdens this war imposes on us, we, of Illinois, will bear these burdens more lightly if we shall recall the first 100 years of Illinois' achievements.

"Our fathers before us, too, bore heavy burdens. They, too, knew what it meant to offer all for a great cause. They, too, faced danger and difficulty.

"But they triumphed over all. And this great commonwealth—the home of twice the number of free men than the United States contained at the close of the Revolutionary War—is the result.

"We have 100 years of noble history as a background.

"Whether we realize it or not, the future of our country depends upon the issue of this worldwide war. It will help Illinois to play a great part in this war if her people will refresh their courage and strengthen their will by a study of our first 100 years.

"Now therefore I, Frank O. Lowden, governor of Illinois, hereby call special attention to Dec. 3, 1917, as the anniversary of the formal admission of our state in the Union and as the beginning of the centennial year.

"I urge the general observance of this day throughout the commonwealth.

"I further urge that organizations be formed in every county to cooperate with the Illinois Centennial Commission in planning an appropriate observance of Illinois' centennial anniversary."

By CHARLES PUFFENBARGER
University of Illinois Assistant Professor of Journalism

Nothing could be more impossible to study than local government in Illinois. This, of course, makes it a perfect subject for college students; they're too young to recognize the impossible.

So that's exactly what a group of University of Illinois journalism students set out to do six months ago—study local government in Illinois.

What a laborious task. Nearly 6500 units of local government, scattered across one of the nation's largest and most populous states, from Galena in the north to Chicago in the south.

The idea was to find out what is wrong with local government in the state and produce a series of articles explaining the faults and pointing out possible solutions.

Costly Splintering
The basis for the study was the Committee for Economic Development's report, "Modernizing Local Government," which had proposed for one thing that government on a local level is too diversified and thus uneconomical.

The project was undertaken by 25 undergraduates in an advanced reporting class at the University of Illinois journalism department.

They divided the subject into different areas of concentration: revenue and taxes, special districts, schools, home rule and many others—and spread out across the state before Christmas, talking to officials and private citizens, pouring through dusty studies on the question.

Several went to Washington for interviews because a 11 power seems to lead to the capital these days.

Others studied the governments of Montgomery county in Maryland, of Arlington, Va., and of Nashville, Tenn., because they had been told that local government in these places had been developed to its finest.

The students looked not just

Prompt, Decisive Action By SIU To Discourage Campus Anarchy

"An unruly mob broke into my office. They were driven out by security officers. Some are in jail. Some are in the hospital. All are expelled."

This concise statement by Dr. Delyte W. Morris of SIU could be studied profitably by those university presidents who have to fire of anarchy by "turning the other cheek" when groups of students and non-students damaged property and disrupted teaching and administrative work.

As President Morris said, universities have a duty to welcome responsible dissent and discussion, in the American tradition of free expression and in their rightful dedication to intellectual growth. But when laws are violated and other persons are inconvenienced or endangered there is an equal duty to act decisively.

The woolly-headed response by some highly-paid educators who ought to know better is a sad commentary on how far some segments of "higher learning" have departed from common sense.

The reason universities are run by mature men a generation older than the students is that they have the expertise and judgment to do the job. Despite the exceptions referred to in this wisdom has been shown to be lacking, we doubt that taxpayers and benefactors ever will turn over higher education reins to those in their late teens and early twenties.

Certainly, students can and should seek rule revisions through orderly procedure. They can and should demand or other justified requests for increased privileges. But change does come, even if more gradually than an individual may desire, and some proposals consigned to the wastebasket deserve no other fate.

In an era when the young are quick to detect and spot a hypocrite, it is apparent that many of the younger set also are "cop-outs." Too many want freedom of conduct without accompanying responsibility, academic and economic attainment. They need to earn it, and the benefits of democracy without willingness to defend it.

The easy road is not always the best road, but it sometimes takes a lot of schooling and experience to realize it.

Today's college students who are treated with respect but allowed to suffer the consequences of their actions may grow up a little faster than if brought up in an artificial world of "all take and no give."

In regard to the decent, law-abiding majority of students trying to get an education, more of them may need to shoulder part of the burden of maintaining order on their campuses. Non-involvement with law violations and violence is commendable, but to stand aside is sometimes not enough; if they exert increased leadership, lawlessness by other students will be less likely.

Excuse for Poor Taste of Water
Creating a New Credibility Gap

The excuse for the unpleasant taste of local drinking water on periodic occasions is beginning to wear a bit thin.

The public is asked to visualize some large but unspecified process in which pollutants are being handled by an unknown industrial concern somewhere in or near the Mississippi River north of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. intake valve.

One of the employees, so the story goes, commits some sort of error, resulting in huge quantities of the pollutant entering the river and the water supply. The amount is so great that the normal treatment purifies the water but fails to eliminate the repugnant taste. Finally, several days later, it clears up.

AREA TOO COMPLACENT ON FOUL-TASTING WATER

To the Editor: Once again, Granite City and other communities served by the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. have been subjected to a foul-tasting water supply.

I have phoned the water company, my mayor and aldermen on this matter. I was told that apparently an inexperienced barged pulled the wrong plug, thereby emitting a pollutant into the river.

I am appalled that the governing officials of a city of this size can just sit back and watch this condition occur for at least the third time in the last seven months.

Just how many more times must we experience this situation before someone wakes up and takes the necessary action to eliminate the problem?

The well-being of our community is jeopardized each time this "mistake" recurs. Does anyone care?

Whether it is always the same employee—Joe Goofus is as good a name as any for him—has not been determined. If so, he undoubtedly long ago set a new world record for inefficiency.

If this version creates a "credibility gap," citizens instead may wish to imagine Joe's supervisor angrily arriving at the scene and firing him for his ineptness. When the same error occurs again several months later, it may be due to a new employee, still struggling to master the intricacies of his unidentified but obviously complex assignment. If this is the case, the turnover on the staff by now should be awesome in its proportions.

We frankly don't know what is causing the incidents, but we think somebody should know or find out in a hurry. The Granite City council is right in calling for immediate action by the Illinois Commerce Commission and Illinois Board of Health.

If there is a Joe and if he has an employer, such facts should be pinpointed along with the exact circumstances and any steps being taken to avoid further repetition. If there is some other cause, surely it also can be found and solved. The whole subject deserves top priority.

Another full week of "Grassroots Government" meetings Quad-City taxpayers. The schedule includes the Granite City school board tonight, Namecoi town board and Madison city council tomorrow, Madison county board Wednesday, Madison school board Thursday and Venice city council Friday night.

We recommend attendance as a constructive and enlightening way to spend an evening. Details on time and location are given elsewhere on this page.

As Dean Martin Says, Keep Those Cards and Letters Coming

Because effective communications is a two-way street, the Press-Record regards the Forum column as one of the most important parts of this newspaper. It is essential that not only the editor's viewpoint but also readers' opinions be presented.

It is encouraging to note a steady increase in the number of letters published in recent months and years. The previous issue included eight Forum comments, seven of them signed and one unsigned. All writers must identify themselves to the editor, but the name is not revealed if anonymity is requested. More letters appear on this page today.

We encourage Quad-Cityans to continue giving their thoughts on issues of current public interest. We will always be glad to receive and publish them, because such exchanges of views help democracy function.

Local Park Districts Setting An Example Envy By Many Areas

Beginning tonight, the Granite City park district will approximately double its softball program by inaugurating a regular schedule at Worthen Park as well as the traditional nightly softball games at Wilson Park.

The lighted diamonds are expected to attract substantial crowds of spectators throughout the summer and will afford healthful exercise and enjoyable recreation for numerous men's and women's teams.

The local population continues to grow, and park officials throughout the Quad-Cities are keeping pace by studying an example that could well be copied nationally.

It is interesting to note that the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports currently is placing heavy emphasis on a "Don't Fence Me Out" drive intended to keep school and park grounds open for recreational purposes after school hours. Cooperative use of both indoor and outdoor facilities in the evenings, week ends and during the summer has been a practice here for many years.

Beauty, Inspiration In Every Vocation

Beauty is in the eye of the beholder but Carl Townsend, a Madison employed at Granite City Steel Company, has found beauty recognizable to all in one of the lesser byproducts of steelmaking, slag iron. His slag sculpture hobby has resulted in a number of 60 artworks.

At SIU-SW, where he demonstrated the process preceding a reception last week.

If each of us could bring similar insight to his work, finding beauty and value in his job, regardless of the kind of endeavor, it is not an overstatement to say that the world would be transformed.

An individual need not be an artist to find joy and attractiveness and fulfillment in his vocation, because such appreciation depends more on attitude and enthusiasm than on the surroundings themselves.

For Carl Townsend, inspiration came from the crust that forms on ingot molds, but the potential list of such challenges is infinite.

Steel Import Growth Threat to Prosperity, Military Strength

(First of Two Reports by Granite City Press-Record)

The American steel industry is often referred to as a symbol of our country's industrial might.

American steel companies have the most advanced equipment . . . employ the most highly skilled engineers, technicians and plant workers . . . operate big facilities capable of producing and shipping much more steel than is being used in the United States.

Despite all this, more and more imported steel is coming into the United States. The trickle became a stream and is now a flood.

During the first eight months of 1967:

American steel mills shipped 9% more steel to their American customers than in the same eight months the previous year. And foreign steel mills shipped 54% more steel to these American customers.

Almost 11% of the steel consumed in the United States in 1966 was supplied by foreign steel companies and foreign steel workers. And the situation is becoming worse. Imports captured 12% of the U.S. market in 1967.

While American steel users are importing more, the American steel industry is exporting less—much less.

Complete Turnaround
This country was once a big exporter of steel. In 1957, only 10 years ago, exports accounted for almost 7% of all the steel produced in the U.S.

Producing for export made many jobs in the steel industry in those days. But not any longer.

Exports are down because the one remaining open market into which other nations can dump their surplus steel is right here in the U.S.

U.S. markets have become so bargained for by foreign steel producers. As a result, this country is now in the unusual and unhealthy position of being the world's largest producer of steel and also the world's largest importer of steel.

Ten years ago, the U.S. imported 12 million tons of steel products and exported 5.3 million tons. In 1966, we imported 10.8 million tons and exported 1.7 million tons.

Economic, Security Link
Steel is a basic industry, important to the economy and the national security. There are many reasons for concern about the trend of foreign steel coming into the U.S.

It would take a huge steel company with many separate plants (a company about the size of Jones & Laughlin and Armco combined) to produce and ship as much steel as 10 million tons imported in 1966.

Prices on the same products imported are lower by anywhere from at least $10 per ton to $20 per ton and more . . . and this despite long-haul transportation charges and import duties.

Archaeologists in Race For Time in Mounds Area

An archaeological salvage program, in which anthropologists and archaeologists teams are making a race against time is under way near Monks Mound at Cahokia Mounds State Park on a site that is threatened by immediate destruction from construction of a shopping center.

Charles J. Bareis, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Archaeological Survey, has been working at the site for the last two months since he learned that a large shopping center would be constructed there and opened by early fall. The site is just west of Collinsville near the intersection of Business Route 40 and Illinois Route 111.

The project is a joint effort of the University of Illinois department of anthropology and the Illinois Archaeological Survey. Bareis has been working closely with two other survey members, St. Louis businessman Nelson Reed, and Prof. James P. Anderson, University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee. Students and volunteers from the area also have helped.

Developers Cooperative Bareis said that the shopping center developers, Gem Stores, Inc., have been very cooperative and even have provided financial support of the conservation and preservation of archaeological information at the site.

Due to the lack of time, machinery is being used in excavations at the site which is known as Powell Mound I. District 8 of the Illinois Highway Department recently donated two pieces of earth-moving equipment for two days. A third piece of heavy equipment is operated by Clyde Switzer, a contractor and excavator who has worked with Bareis in the Monks Mound area for the past six years.

Bareis said he hopes to reach the mound's preface or old village surface area within a week. The mound is described as a man-made high rise-earth piled up as a platform for other structures or for burials.

was 310 feet long, 180 feet wide and 40 feet high. Fourteen burials already have been uncovered and from 40 to 50 artifacts removed. The project is in the mounds area which is the largest Middle Mississippian site in the United States, dating back to 800 to 1500 A.D.

Bareis believes that the Indians dug large pits in the pre-mound surface which possibly could contain earlier pottery than that which has been found in the mound. He has uncovered evidence of ceremonial or burial platform construction. He said he plans to work beyond the shopping center construction limits this summer. Bareis estimates it would take a minimum of six months with a crew of five to ten men to carefully excavate the site without the use of machinery.

He said the project is suffering from lack of time, funds and public interest—the latter coming too late. He also is faced with the same dilemma—that is, if the funds were publicized to raise money, the certainty that amateur skeleton hunters and arrowhead collectors would disrupt the dig at night.

County Zoning Board Approves 4 Requests

Approval of four requests for special use permits and to rezone tracts in Nanticoke town is being recommended by the Madison county zoning board of appeals. Formal action was taken at the May 15 meeting of the Madison county board of supervisors. Included were:

The petition of Everett G. and Josephine Price Steele, owners, for a special use permit to erect one and two-family dwellings with septic tanks in an R-5 multiple family residence district with the stipulation that only one one and two-family dwellings are to be allowed and to be served by septic tanks, and in those cases, each family unit must have its own separate septic tank. Any dwelling unit or dwelling housing more than two families must be served by a package sewage disposal type system.

The petition of Joseph R. Bloom, vice-president of Gem International, Inc., to rezone a tract from R-3 one-family residence district to B-3 highway business district.

The petition of Ignatius Bowers, owner, for a special use permit to place a mobile home in an R-4 single family residence district.

The petition of George Keppel, owner, for a special use permit to place a mobile home in an R-4 single family residence district.

Find one thing in this picture that costs less than it did in the "GOOD OLD DAYS."

Prices of just about everything we use have gone way up since the "good old days" of 30 years ago. Everything, that is, except electricity from Illinois Power Company. Our electric rates have been reduced 40% since 1937. They've come down 10% just in the last 10 years. So how come your electricity bill is higher than "the good old days"? An average household today uses 700% more electricity than it did 30 years ago! Your electric dollar today buys a lot of good modern living... at prices lower than those of "the good old days". (That "4.6¢ per KWH" tag on the electric light would read 2.7¢ per KWH today).

Fine Arts Dean Directing First Play in 7 Years

Andrew Kochman, dean of the Fine Arts Division at Southern Illinois University, is back at his first job directing a theatrical production. Andy, as he is familiarly known at the university, is joined in the fall of 1960, is directing William Wycherley's "The Country Wife," to be presented May 16-18 in the Communications Building auditorium at SIU-SW. The public is invited, admission free.

Kochman hasn't directed a play since 1961 because in August of that year he was named acting head of the Fine Arts Division. "After that he lamented, 'there just wasn't time.' In 1962 he became head of the division. In 1966, the title was changed to dean.

Asked why he chose this particular play to direct, he replied, "Restoration comedy is my favorite. My master's degree thesis at the University of Wisconsin, 'The Way of the World,' concerned the Restoration period.

"I've always wanted to do 'The Country Wife.' Some call it a comedy of manner, others a comedy of wit. I call it a fun play, like its use of language, its brilliant wit and brittle conversation."

There are two kinds of comedy, Kochman says. "One is elegant, sophisticated, appealing to the intellect; the other is farce, the kind that brings belly laughs."

Focus on Manners, Wit. "The Country Wife" comes in the first category. It is centered on manners and wit and its appeal is to the select group. Kochman explained, not to the masses.

The professor claims the only present-day comedy nearly matching the Restoration period is that of Noel Coward, who comes closest to it in his "Private Lives."

"Discussing Wycherley's play is the nicest thing that's happened to me in a long time," he said smilingly, "I forget for a time the cares of being a dean."

"If students have changed in any way since I worked with them as a speaker and theater teacher, it is for the better," Kochman says. "They are sharper, more sophisticated,

Heart Ailment Fatal To Mrs. Ida Gudgeff

Mrs. Ida Gudgeff, 75, of 2906 Denver street suffered an apparent heart attack at her home and was pronounced dead upon being taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Born in Stewart County, Tenn., Mrs. Gudgeff came to Granite City 46 years ago. She had been in failing health three years.

Mrs. Gudgeff was a member of the Pentecostal Church of God, East St. Louis.

Her husband, Luther, died in 1956. She is survived by a son, John Gudgeff, Granite City; three daughters, Mrs. Lorene Brown, Erin, Tenn.; Mrs. Louise Mitchell and Mrs. Viola Cox, both of Granite City; two brothers, Charles Mathis, Erin, Tenn., and Robert Mathis, Detroit, Mich.; two sisters, Agnes Barnes, Stewart County, Tenn., and Mrs. Minnie Bradley, Belleville; eight grandchildren; and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Man Wounded by Knife

A Granite City man apparently attempted suicide at 6:50 p.m. Friday by plunging a paring knife into his stomach. A woman notified police, and an ambulance driver removed the knife before taking the man to St. Elizabeth Hospital from his home on 24th street.

PLAY CAST AT SIU-SW. Andrew Kochman, dean of the Fine Arts Division, with members of the cast of "The Country Wife," which he is directing. The play will be presented May 16-18.

well motivated and willing to work. I missed one rehearsal but the best worked as if I had been there."

Before each practice, the cast takes 15 minutes of self-conducted exercises—most of it borrowed from Yoga (control and concentration). Part of the quarter-hour is used for vocalizing.

Key to Good Acting. Anyone can learn to act, Kochman says. "Good acting depends mostly upon watching and listening and concentrating."

His description of the learning process in acting is much like the "stop, listen and play" technique advocated by Japan's Shichi Suzuki for learning to play the violin, a system being used at the Southwest campus in teaching stringed instruments.

Born in Akron, O., Prof. Kochman received his bachelor's degree in speech from Akron University and his master's and doctorate in speech and theater at the University of Wisconsin.

He came to SIU from Alabama College, where he was director of radio and television, the college theater and the European summer seminar. He has also taught at the University of North Dakota, University of Wisconsin and Akron University.

When SIU opened its residence centers in this area in the fall of 1967, there were three fine arts instructors. Today there are 47.

Under Kochman's seven-year administration, course offerings in the division have been increased several fold. They include classes in art, design, music, speech, pathology and audiology, radio and television.

SIU-SW campus students can also earn a master of music education degree, and the Education Division offers a master of science degree, with a concentration in art education.

Emphasize Performing Arts. Performing arts are emphasized through exhibits, concerts, lectures and theatrical productions. Featured in these are not only university faculty and students but prominent figures from the world of art, dance, music and the theater. Dean Kochman feels his division should be dedicated to presenting quality fine arts programs to the people of Illinois "who have made all this possible."

Testimony to his success as head of fine arts is his long tenure, the small turnover in faculty, the contributions the division has made in making the talents of the staff available for public enjoyment, and the world-renowned performers who have been brought to the campus, most of them free to the public.

His office staff says, "The way we civil service workers feel about our boss can be summed up in three words, 'the very best.' He creates a stimulating work environment which encourages us to strive to do our utmost. There is never a dull moment in the Fine Arts Division."

Kochman and his wife, Martha, better known as Pat, live in Collinsville. Mrs. Kochman was born in Tennessee but, like her husband, was graduated from Akron U. They have three daughters, Andrea, 21, attending Missouri State at Kirksville, Deirdre, 18, a senior at Collinsville high school who will attend the University of Missouri at Columbia next year, and Kendra, 12, who attends North Junior High.

Final Pre-Natal Class, More Planned in Fall

St. Elizabeth Hospital's fifth and final pre-natal class of the spring session will be held in the pre-natal meeting room Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Sister M. These will begin in September.

Miss Mary Ann Schuchman, hospital dietitian, will discuss diet during pregnancy in tomorrow's class. Also, a film will be shown concerning diet during pregnancy and lactation. The evening will be concluded with a tour of the maternity department.

3 Flee Venice Police, Caught in St. Louis

Three boys, 15 to 17 years old, led police on a chase through the city after they had been stopped on a traffic violation last night, then abandoned their car and fled on foot over Merchants bridge to find St. Louis police waiting for them on the other side.

The car containing the three youths was stopped at Klein street and Lee Wright Homes after it had passed a stop sign at the State street cutoff. Police learned the driver had no driver's license. He was instructed to follow the police car to headquarters. While the police car was turning around, however, the driver of the car turned west and drove down Bissel street then north on Second and west on Webster where they stopped.

The three boys jumped out of the car and ran, with police following. Officers fired three shots. As the boys started over Merchants bridge, Venice police radioed St. Louis authorities who sent police to the west end of the bridge to intercept the youths. They were being held today pending an investigation in the St. Louis detention home of ownership of the car.
